Meeting the Right Person

According to a report by the Ministry of Education PRC, the number of studying abroad reached 5.8171 million from 1978 to 2022, which provide Chinese students sufficient chance for excellent education, importantly it is also a necessary way reserving the nation international talent.

In recent 10 years, with a capacity of 3.2124 million Chinese students studying abroad, it's much higher than the total before 2012 (2.6047 million), giving a particularly strong boost to education market.

Looking ahead, study abroad is not only for a few people, but also for the masses. This is inseparably from the country's economic expansion, more requirement rising for diversity education and more supportive role from the governments.
